Best Practice: Vichar Manthan

The practice is entitled "Where Knowledge Meets Youth" at BMIT Vichar Manthan. Since a social animal, man must understand his place in society and his responsibilities. Education only gives the knowledge and skills for his survival but not behavioural lessons. BMIT Manthan tries to fill this gap, to instil in students a sense of social responsibility, to be conscious of the opportunities for their career, to force them to synthesise and analyse their ideas and motivate them to make decisions, To inspire a lifetime of learning.

This year the speaker is Deek Parasani who conducted Over 225+ sessions all over India have positively impacted thousands of individuals across various age groups; Deek has conducted sessions for esteemed organizations such as the Ministry of Indian Railways, Central Academy for Police Training, IIT Bombay, Kings George's Medical University, Madya Pradesh Police Academy and more.

He conducts all his sessions with the intention of giving back to the community, and his mission is to make positivity freely available to everyone. The next question you would ask is, Why Free? To which he replies, "It is just my way of Thanking God, and I consider each one of you as my family. Then how can I charge a fee to my family for my service?"

Deek is the founder of LIAP Foundation, a volunteer-driven initiative with a simple goal: "Let's All Come Together and Make The World Realize that Life Is All Positive." LIAP Foundation has helped over 20,000 people in the last two years through 66 projects in India. The core mission is to heal minds and feed souls, considering the whole world as one big family. This reflects Deek's commitment to creating a better world based on positivity, compassion, and shared humanity.
